The “Dream Keepers” Scholarship Report

March 8, 2011

The Alma Mater produces outstanding students like Joy Bray who is pictured on the cover. The “Dream Keepers” Campaign was an effort to produce more students like Ms. Bray. Central State University’s scholarship budget is strained to the utmost. Ninety-seven percent of the students matriculating at the University require outside funding to “bridge the gap” between financial aid and school expenses. The University simply does not have the scholarship dollars to accommodate them. For lack of financial resources, too many students will return home without completing their education. November 1st through December 31st, alumni and friends developed and implemented the “Dream Keepers” Fundraising Campaign. The campaign was designed to provide need-based funding to students who were in danger of not completing / pursuing their Central State University higher educational dreams. Enrollment data suggested that 93% students would not return to school in January, and an even larger number of students will be in danger of not returning in the fall due to financial reasons. The campaign goal was to raise $139,500 by December 31, 2010. As promised, below is a status report on the “Dream Keepers” Campaign.
