

Letter of Intent between Central State University and
Wright State University

Central State University and Wright State University have a number of common interests. We both share a commitment to the Miami Valley and the State of Ohio, and we have a common mission of excellence in education, research and of service to our surrounding communities. Though we have very different histories, we are united in our common values and hopes for the future.

To build upon this common ground, we establish this Letter of Intent on behalf of our universities with a pledge for working collaboratively to help both institutions advance their individual missions and to better serve the citizens of Ohio. We will work together at all levels—faculty, administration, staff, and students—to identify common opportunities, build programs of mutual benefit for our students, and enhance our service to Ohio and to all who come through our doors. We direct our administrative and faculty colleagues to pursue programs of mutual benefit, including combined and joint degree programs, shared research endeavors, joint pursuit of funding opportunities, and other opportunities that may develop, and to bring these programs to practical reality. In so doing, we look forward to a long, substantive and rich partnership of academic and educational excellence, and to the benefits that this partnership will bring to our students and the communities around us.
