

COM 3400. Broadcast Media Production and Direction: Television and New Media (II; 3)

This course provides students with practical training in production, programming and direction. Students work in teams to produce television and new media productions such as news, commercials, sports programs, and documentaries; course includes video editing. Prerequisite: COM 2272.