WILBERFORCE, OH – Virtual and in-person information meetings will be hosted by Central State University Extension (CSUE) agriculture/natural resources educators to share how participants may sign up for a community garden bed at the CSU Seed to Bloom Botanical and Community Garden located at the intersection of US 42 E and Wilberforce-Switch Road.

The gardens are located across the main entrance to the university.

Virtual (TEAMS) meetings will be offered at 6 p.m., Tuesday, March 16 and 10 a.m., Saturday, March 20. An in-person meeting will be held at 6 p.m., Thursday, March 18, at the CSU Seed to Bloom Botanical and Community Garden.

The meetings will share the history and purpose of the CSU Seed to Bloom Botanical and Community Garden, as well as how to register for a garden bed, review garden rules and expectations, and the selection process.

Each of the eight community garden beds is approximately 4-by-8 foot in size; garden beds can be divided if a participant wants less gardening space.

Information will be shared about gardening educational sessions to be offered.
