

Title III Endowment Matching Opportunity Strengthening Central State University's Future

Central State University participates in the federal Title III Endowment Matching Program, which allows qualifying private endowment gifts to be leveraged to strengthen the University's long-term financial foundation.

Central State University is focused on growing the Strategic University Initiative Endowment, a permanent institutional endowment that provides long-term stability and strategic flexibility.

Strengthening this endowment ensures the University can invest in academic priorities, respond to emerging needs, and advance the goals of its Strategic Plan for years to come.

How this Opportunity Works

- Donors make new private endowment gifts through the CSU Innovation and Development Foundation to grow the Strategic University Initiative Endowment.
- Gifts are permanently endowed and governed by Foundation investment and spending policies.
- In accordance with federal guidelines, Central State may apply Title III matching funds to the institutional endowment held by the Foundation.

How This Opportunity Creates Impact

- Strengthens Central State University's long-term financial stability.
- Provides flexible, enduring support aligned with institutional priorities.
- Leverages federal resources to amplify the impact of private philanthropy.
- Supports student success and institutional sustainability for generations to come.

Donors interested in establishing a named endowment in a specific area of impact are encouraged to contact Institutional Advancement. Under the Title III Endowment Matching Program, federal matching funds are applied to the Strategic University Initiative Endowment, consistent with federal requirements.
